Authorities seek Bay disc jockey in Vizzini murder

BY DENA BISNETTE

Law enforcement authorities are still seeking a Bay St. Louis disc jockey as the prime suspect in the Tuesday morning murder of a Clermont Harbor woman.

Catherine Ducote Vizzini, 35, was found dead in the trailer that houses WKGR radio station at about 6:20 a.m. by another disc jockey reporting to work.

According to David Murtagh, chief detective for the Bay St. Louis Police Department, the suspect, a part-time disc jockey, is Richard Allan Ryan, 30, whose professional name is Rick Angler.

Ryan is from Oklahoma and had been in Hancock County little more than a month, authorities said.

Ryan is believed to have fled in the victim's car, a dark blue four-door Chrysler Fifth Avenue.

The vehicle's tag number is EXZ-194. Anyone who may have seen the vehicle or Ryan is asked to contact the Bay St. Louis Police Department at 467-9221.

Ryan is described as being five feet-six inches tall, weighing about 190 pounds with blue eyes and dark hair.

He is presently wanted for murder and auto theft and may be charged with rape if tests being performed by the Mississippi Crime Laboratory indicate that the woman was raped, Murtagh said.

Hancock County Coroner Harold Stiglet said an autopsy performed late Tuesday with assistance from Crime Laboratory personnel indicated that Vizzini had died from "severe trauma to the head and neck."

Stiglet said there were several wounds on the back of the woman's head and skull.

The autopsy indicated that she had died about 4 a.m., but it is possible that the death occurred anywhere between 2:30 a.m. and 6 a.m., the coroner added.

Murtagh said police believe that Vizzini was probably hit with a blood-stained claw hammer found at the trailer, which is located off Blue Meadow Road.

The hammer, along with other

Space Center directors' meeting scheduled Thursday at NSTL

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

A Space Management Council meeting for directors of the four National Aeronautics and Space Administration space centers and Rear Admiral Richard H. Truly, associate administrator for space flight, is set for today at National Space Technology laboratories.

Expected to attend the meeting will be NSTL Director Jerry Hlass and newly appointed directors Aaron Cohen of Johnson Space Center in Houston, Texas, General Forrest McCartney of Kennedy Space Center in Cape Canaveral, Fla. and James H. Thompson of Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Ala.

Hlass is the only veteran member of the council. Truly and the space center directors have all been appointed since the destruction of the Shuttle Challenger in January.

Adm. Truly visited at NSTL earlier in the week and participated in an awards program honoring NASA's Public Affairs Officer Mack Herring and the personnel of the NSTL Medical Services and Environmental Health Office of Pan Am World Services.

In the awards program, Herring was presented the Exceptional Service Medal for his "unique dedication and outstanding contributions to NASA's public affairs and educational programs at NSTL" by Truly.

The Public Service Group Achievement Award was presented to Occupational Health Services personnel including Mary L. Schindele, Martha E. Johnson, Dr. Maurice A. Taquino, Dr. William D. Fitzgerald, Sara A. Allen, Harry F. Gilmore Jr., Timothy L. Donohoe, Donna S. Pullman, Sarah L. Plunkett, Marcia S. Lovell, Bonnie E. Dillard, Henry T. Summers, Beverly A. Creel, Jenette B. Gordon-Stokes, Ava B. Shugart and Helen F. Higginbotham. William Welch received the award posthumously.

Wednesday's awards ceremony also marked the 25th anniversary of NASA's selection of the site in Hancock County for building the new installation.

During the program, Hlass reported recent approval from NASA to modify and convert the B-1 test stand into a third single and active space shuttle main engine testing stand.

Awaiting official opinion

Vote on building code may not include Bay, Waveland residents

BY DENA BISNETTE

Whether or not city residents may vote in a Nov. 4 referendum on a county building code remains an open question officially, but the unofficial answer is "No."

Hancock County Board of Supervisors Attorney Gerald Gex said Tuesday morning that he had sent a request for a written State Attorney General's opinion by express mail to Jackson after a Hancock County election commissioner questioned the matter Monday afternoon.

According to Gex, whether residents of Bay St. Louis and Waveland can vote on the issue is not specified in the local and private bill that authorized the referendum.

The bill states that the special election for the referendum "shall be held and conducted in accordance with the general laws for the holding of county elections."

"When the results of any such election shall have been canvassed by the election commission of the county and certified, the board of supervisors may establish a county building code if a majority of the qualified electors who vote in such election vote in favor of such code."

One of his law partners, Joseph Gex, was serving as substitute board attorney when the matter first came up several months ago and has obtained a verbal opinion from Assistant Attorney General Sam Keyes by telephone.

Keyes indicated that city residents can be excluded from the referendum, since the proposed building code will affect only the county's unincorporated areas.

The cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland already use the revised Southern Standard Building Code.

A previous opinion obtained from Keyes addressed only the matter of whether or not the building code could cover only part of the county rather than all of it.

Joseph Gex said the verbal opinion is based on the intent of the local and private bill rather than the language of the bill.

Election Commission Secretary Charles Gottschalk, who called the matter to the attorneys' attention, told Gerald Gex that ballots already have been printed but can be altered if city voters are excluded.

The matter was also unclear to members of the Hancock County Planning Commission and about 30 people who attended a commission-

Mayor calls hospital ploy extortion

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

An easement to lay a needed sewer line on hospital property may be contingent on the City of Bay St. Louis' rezoning of property around the hospital.

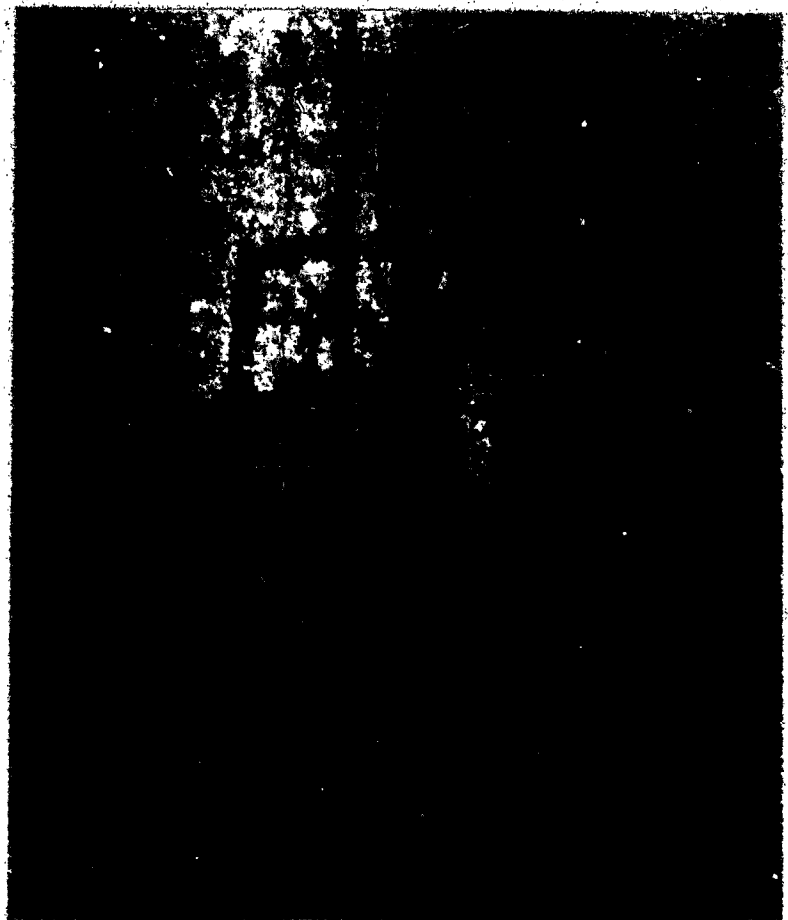

Bay Mayor Victor J. Frankiewicz Jr. reported Tuesday to the council a decision by the Hancock General Hospital Board to withhold the granting an easement until the city approves a single-use permit request by Dr. James Crittendon.

"In my mind this amounts to extortion and is a very bad public policy for the hospital," Frankiewicz said.

The single-use permit request by Crittendon was recommended for denial by the Bay St. Louis Planning and Zoning Commission.

TAC members receive beachfront Master Plan

By ELLIS CUEVAS

A joint meeting of the Executive Council and the Hancock County Technical Advisory Council (TAC), was held Wednesday for presentation of the county's Master Plan for Shorefront Protection and Utilization.

John Scaffide, TAC chairman, stated, "This is the long awaited day we have been working almost two years for, and through the (Hancock County board of) Supervisors funding, we now have a fine Master Plan."

Major funding for the Hancock County plan was from the Mississippi Department of Wildlife, and Bureau of Marine Resources.

The plan was financed in-part through a federal grant from the Office of Ocean and Coastal Resource Management under the Coast Zone Management Act of 1972, as amended.

The plan was prepared by the Sand Beach Planning Team of Ralph M. Field Associates, Inc., Design Consortium, Ltd., Gulf Coast Research Laboratory, Robert G. Dean, Sr., Mississippi Law Institute, and Southern Mississippi Planning and Development District.

Dr. Richard Leard, director, Bureau of Marine Resources, in his remarks stated, "This is an excellent plan for solving a problem."

"Today is the ending of the planing, and now comes the implementation," Dr. Leard continued.

Hancock Supervisor Sam Pernickaro said, "Thanks to Dr. Leard, TAC and chamber members for a job well done. As you know, we now have four men working on the beach and doing a fine job."

When queried on how much has been spent on the beach, Supervisor Roger Dale Lachar stated, "We have spent approximately $80,000 on a sand filter, which should arrive by December, in addition to the four men who work in the area on a permanent basis."

Hancock County Chancery Clerk Mike Nozette reported there was

Safety emphasized to Hancock bus drivers

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
The Hancock County School District is taking steps to prevent any accidents such as the recent death of a student in Gulfport after being run over by a school bus.

Superintendent Terrell Randolph said monthly meetings are planned with all transportation personnel.

"At the monthly meeting we will remind drivers of safety procedures and discuss any problems or concerns of the drivers," he said.

In addition to the meeting, Randolph said a flag boy is being used on each bus.

"I think the use of flag boys is a very important safety factor," he added.

While some argue that this is a danger for the flag boy, Randolph stated it lessens the risk for the smaller children.

"Bus drivers have an awesome responsibility in just paying attention to the front and back of the bus and the students on the buses," he said.

"The use of a flag boy is a big help to the drivers and we have been using them for a long time," Randolph added.

He said flag boys are particularly used on the highway and main roads.

"We plan to emphasize the continued use of flag boys," he said.

Randolph said county school buses travel an average of 50 miles a day for total of 2,300 per day and 47,000 miles a month.

"Considering these figures, we have a very good safety record," he added.

"School bus transportation is not only the greatest mass transit of people in the world but also the safest," he said.

There are fewer accidents involving school buses than any other form of transportation, he added.

During the past 10 years Randolph said he could not recall any serious accident caused by a collision involving a school bus.

"We had a student to slip out of a seat and be hurt and a few other minor scrapes but none with serious injuries," he said.

"We have been very fortunate and have an overall record that we can be proud of," Randolph said.

Quotables by Cuevas

The Hawks of Hancock North Central played before the largest away-from-home crowd of fans last week in scoring their seventh victory of the season.

Head Coach Farve expressed an appreciation for the good local fan support, as the Hawks defeated Long Beach at their homecoming by breaking a tie in the last seconds of play by a 29-22 margin.

This week the Hawks will host George County at Hancock North Central stadium.

The explosive Hawks are hoping to keep their string alive and are looking for some good local fan support in the stadium.

Bay High's Tigers have had two weeks to prepare for St. Martin's Yellow Jackets.

The Tigers, 5-1 for the season will travel to North Biloxi for the game Friday.

Head Coach Cleveland Williams' Tigers have really been rolling with five victories in a row.

The Rock-A-Chaws of St. Stanislaus will take the long journey to East Central Friday night.

Rock Head Coach Vernon Powell's squad will be hoping to break into the win column against East Central.

The young Rock-A-Chaws have been on the verge several times of winning a game this season, as their offense has been moving the ball and scoring in recent games.

The Pirates of Pass Christian will be trying for victory number two of the season on Friday when they host Vancleave's Bulldogs.

Head Coach Alton Wright's Pirates hung tough last week against a strong Pearl River Central losing by only six points.

After Friday night there will be only two regular season games left for local high school football teams.

We hope the stands will be filled with local supporters, and hope to see you at the game.

Remember, kick-offs are at 7:30 p.m.

A new fund raiser will be introduced by the Krewe of Nereids on Saturday, Nov. 15.

It will be the First Annual Krewe of Nereids Golf Tournament to be held at Diamondhead's Country Club.

The tournament will be open for both men and women with terrific prizes for the winners.

Further information can be obtained by calling Hilda Bourg at 255-1299, or Mary Hays at 255-1421.

Sunday a.m. will be the time of the year when everyone will move their clocks back one hour.

We remember the theory of advancing forward in the Spring and falling backward in the Fall.

1890 Constitution aids legislative ruling circle

(More of Mississippi First's "Ninety Things Wrong With the 1890 Constitution")

Calling for constitutional reform of the Mississippi Legislature's "Buddie system of hiding behind outdated technicalities in Mississippi's 1890 Constitution as a way of killing legislation Mississippi's economy needs," Mississippi First, Inc., the statewide citizens political action committee, turned to constitutional provisions on the Legislature in the latest part of the group's campaign to point out what it calls "ninety things wrong with the 1890 constitution."

"Every time the ruling circle of the Mississippi Legislature sets out to stop the kind of legislation Mississippi needs to create economic growth," said Mississippi First Chairman Brad Pigott, "the 1890 Mississippi Constitution offers them a long list of ways to shut the door on progress."

The Mississippi First organization also criticized the ninety-six-year-old document for allowing the House Speaker and Lieutenant Governor to build too much power over time by serving an unlimited number of terms in those offices, and for "allowing any legislator to slow down the entire law-making process by insisting that any entire bill be read aloud before any passage of the bill." (Section 59).

Mississippi's 1890 Constitution also allows legislative leaders "too many chances to run the executive as well as the legislative branch," according to Pigott, by letting them serve as acting governor if the elected governor and lieutenant governor are absent or disabled (Section 131), and by letting the House of Representatives elect the governor if no candidate for governor gets a majority. (Section 141).

The bipartisan Mississippi First organization has pledged to give financial and training assistance to legislative candidates in 1987 who support a new state constitution for Mississippi. Mississippi First, Inc. won most of the legislative races in which it endorsed and helped to finance legislative candidates in 1983.

It was a result of a lobbying effort by a newly formed organization called the Mississippi Retired Public Employees' Association, Inc. The group was formed in 1984 when some old retired police became nervous over reports that a number of other states were eyeing state pension funds to help bail them out of fiscal trouble.

"Some 25 or 30 states have dipped into their retirement systems, and there have been some bills to do that in Mississippi," contends John E. Aldridge of Jackson, one of the directors of the retired public employees lobby group.

Aldridge said recent accounts in McGruff here, to let all you good people in business know that crime is one competitor you can't ignore. October is Crime Prevention Month, and there's plenty you can do to cut crime and make your community safer. Remind your employees:

- To stick together if they're working late. To use the buddy system when going through the halls or to their cars. And to call the building security guard for an escort if there's no one else around.
- To park in well lighted areas and lock their car doors.
- To keep purses and personal belongings with them or locked in a drawer.
- To report anything unusual or suspicious to the police (Make sure you post emergency numbers by all the office phones.)

And while you're at it, how about getting a Business Crime Watcher? Call the police or sheriff's department to find out more.

Eyes on Mississippi

By Bill Minor

JACKSON—A politically savvy bunch of retired state employees is putting on a spirited campaign to get voters to ratify Amendment No. 2 on the Nov. 4 ballot which they say will keep the Legislature from ever dipping into the state retirement trust fund.

Actually their drive to cement the Public Employees Retirement System trust fund, now at $3 billion, in the state constitution has been the most visible activity in behalf of any of the five amendments up for ratification Nov. 4.

Also pending are amendments creating an education trust fund in the State Treasury; permitting governors to serve two terms successively; permitting the state treasurer to succeed himself with no limit on terms; and extending the maximum term on 16th section school land leases other than forest and agricultural lands from 25 to 40 years.

The proposal to give constitutional status to the state retirement system, which covers 27,000 retirees and 125,000 public employees now working at state, county and municipal jobs statewide, has come out of the 1985 session of the Legislature.

It was a result of a lobbying effort by a newly formed organization called the Mississippi Retired Public Employees' Association, Inc. The group was formed in 1984 when some old retired police became nervous over reports that a number of other states were eyeing state pension funds to help bail them out of fiscal trouble.

"Some 25 or 30 states have dipped into their retirement systems, and there have been some bills to do that in Mississippi," contends John E. Aldridge of Jackson, one of the directors of the retired public employees lobby group.

Aldridge said recent accounts in the Wall Street Journal report that the depressed oil-patch states of Oklahoma, Texas and Louisiana are cutting back on their contributions to retirees funds to shore up state budgets.

"Alabama retirees have been cut one-third this year because of what has happened to the fund in that state," Aldridge has been relating to state retirees in meetings around Mississippi to rally support for the constitutional amendment.

Actually, the horror story about Alabama retirees doesn't seem to be based on factual information according to Alabama sources contacted by this column. A friend in Jackson who is retired from the University of Alabama said there has been no cut in her retirement benefits. In fact they have been increased in the past three years.

A newspaper friend in Montgomery says that no serious effort to tap the retirement system has been made in the Alabama Legislature and that the system in that state is considered one of the best run in the country because of a "financial genius" administrator.

Some Mississippi legislators believe the state retirees group here "is crying wolf when there is no wolf" in pushing for the constitutional amendment.

"I don't know of another state where the corpus (the principal) of the retirement trust fund has been invaded," said Sen. Bob Montgomery of Canton, the Senate finance chairman who serves as a legislative liaison with the State Retirement System Board of Trustees.

Now at slightly over $3 billion, the trust fund of the Mississippi system makes it the largest financial institution in the state. Assets of the fund have escalated in recent years because of the investment wizardry of Jackson banker/industrialist Robert Hearin, who was appointed by Cliff Finch as a member of the board of trustees.

Hearin four years ago persuaded the board to sell at a discount its old bond holdings that were yielding only around 3 and 4 per cent interest and put the money into high yield investments and the stock market.

At the same time, some of the old state employees who helped start the retirement system thought the board had gone wacko. But now the system is proportionately one of the richest in the country.

Some legislative observers have questioned why the whopping big state retirement trust fund has never been utilized to stimulate industrial development in Mississippi, since the shortage of capital investment is regarded as the state's most critical economic handicap.

Evidently that is a sensitive area with the retirement system board. One board source said Mississippi economic development bonds "don't have an attractive yield, and that is the bottom line we are looking for."

A coalition of state senators recently announced plans to develop a major Farm Assistance Renewal in Mississippi (FARM) act for presentation to the Legislature in the 1987 Session.

"We must have a major thrust to look at the needs of the farmers. Agriculture is a major dollar industry that has been put out of the limelight. I've seen a grown man who has farmed 28 years about to lose everything. I've talked with a corn farmer who literally broke down because he felt no one understands or cares about the farmers' problems," said Senator Robert H. "Rob" Smith of Richland, who served as spokesman for the Senators at a press conference.

Others attending were Senators Nevin Sledge of Cleveland, Walter A. "Bud" Graham of New Albany, Alan Heflin of Forest, Ronnie Shows of Bassfield, Wayne Burkes of Clinton, and F.M. Smith of Laurel. Other Senators supporting the proposal, according to Smith, are Irb Benjamin of Rienzi, Bunky Huggins of Greenwood, and George Smith of Gulfport.

Smith explained that the first step in preparing a comprehensive act would be the formation of a 30-member committee composed of Senators and private sector individuals. The committee is to meet with farmers in 11 areas of the state to assess their needs and get suggestions for solutions to the problem. The committee's recommendations would be presented to the Senate Agriculture Committee for their use in preparing the legislation.

Smith said that he envisions the act including a farm mediation program, assistance for farmers switching to alternative crops, increased efforts to help farmers market their products, emphasis on the forest products industry, and centralization of information for farmers.

Possible sources of financing for programs, Smith said, could include state agencies such as Department of Agriculture, mental health, Soil Conservation, Cooperative Extension Service targeting some of their present funding to help farmers; new state money to match federal funds; and bonding programs.

Holding up a miniature bale of cotton sold as a souvenir, Graham said "The novelty shop makes more profit off this miniature bale than a farmer producing a real bale of cotton today."

He added that a new burden being placed on the farming industry is the Tennessee Valley Authority upping the rates on seasonal users such as cotton gins, farmers using irrigation, and grain elevators.

"The crisis does not affect just the farmer, but the pesticide companies, the equipment salesmen. It has a tremendous impact on the entire economy. We have taught other nations how to farm and now they are putting our farmers out of business," Burkes said.

Regarding financing, Heflin commented, "We're not talking about an untold amount of new state dollars. What we need is coordination of efforts among the agencies that can help farmers. We've got more expertise in this state than any of our surrounding states, but they're moving in different directions. We need to look at such things as tax incentives and interest-free loans. Our farmers are cash poor, but they have assets."

Sledge spoke on the continuing decline in the value of farmland. "Particularly in the Delta, our wealth has been our land and today that is going down the drain. In my county, Bolivar, during the last three years we have lost $120 million in true value farm land which translates to $18 million in assessed value."

MISSISSIPPI 21 LEGISLATION SHOULD MAKE HIGHWAYS SAFER

Legislation raising Mississippi's alcoholic beverage drinking age to a minimum of 21, which becomes effective Oct. 1, could be a key step in making state highways safer, according to the Highway Safety Division, Governor's Office of Federal-State Programs.

Combining drinking and driving is Mississippi's most serious highway safety problem, according to Billy Terrell, our Highway Safety Division director.

Teenagers' love affair with the automobile is well-known, and far too many Mississippi young people have mixed drinking and driving. Although driving after drinking is a problem pervading all age groups of licensed drivers, it is particularly severe for teenagers. The combination of learning how to drive, youthful risk-taking behavior and drinking has become the number one killer of our nation's teenagers, Terrell feels.

The Insurance Institute for Highway Safety has reported that teenage drivers are involved in one of every five fatal crashes and that almost 60 percent of fatally injured teenage drivers were found to have alcohol in their blood systems.

Institute research indicates that, on the average, a state that raises its drinking age can expect about 28 percent reduction in nighttime fatal crash involvement among drivers to whom the law applies.

A National Bureau of Economic Research Inc. study indicates that 700 teenage lives a year would not have been lost and thousands of teenagers would not have been injured or maimed if the minimum drinking age in all states had been 21 during the 1970-75 period when many states lowered the drinking age to 18.

"We, of course, realize the new law will not eliminate all teenage drinking and driving, but we do think it will have a strong impact," said Roy Thigpen, governor's representative for highway safety and director of Federal-State Programs' Department of Criminal Justice Planning.

Each year, approximately 46 Mississippians under the age of 21 are killed in alcohol-related crashes. National statistics indicate that alcoholic involvement is at least three times greater in nighttime accidents. If the 28 percent reduction in nighttime fatal crash involvement, among drivers to whom the law applies, occurs in Mississippi, approximately 10 young lives will be saved each year, and many serious injuries will be prevented.

The act, passed by the 1985 Legislature, provides for a fine of up to $500 and a sentence of up to 30 days of community service for any person under the age of 21 who purchases or possesses any light wine or beer. The purchase or possession of liquor by a person under 21 already is illegal in Mississippi. The same penalties apply to individuals who falsely state they are 21 or older, or present any documents to indicate they are 21 or older, for the purpose of purchasing or possessing any light wine or beer.

Also provided is a fine of up to $500 and sentence of up to 30 days of community service for any person who knowingly purchases light wine or beer for, or makes available light wine or beer to, a person under the age of 21.

Punishment for selling light wine and beer also is included in the new law.

Hamilton to run for school board

David M. Hamilton of Oak Harbor Subdivision at Pearlington has announced his candidacy for the Hancock County School Board Beat Two seat.

Hamilton is chief of cost accounting at Michoud Division of Martin Marietta Aerospace.

DAVID M. HAMILTON

He said this will be his first try for political office, although he was active in efforts to pass a school bond issue about five years ago.

The bond issue, which Hamilton said was narrowly defeated, would have provided the funding for a new high school for the county if it had passed.

Hamilton said he feels this is an important time for people to become involved with their local school boards.

"The local governments, particularly school boards, are having more and more responsibility returned to them by the federal government, but the money is not being returned," the candidate said. "That is why we need a certain cost consciousness in the operation of the school districts. We already have it to some degree in Hancock County but there is always room for improvement."

Hamilton is a native of Denver, Colo., and has lived in Hancock County for about 11 years.

He attended Southwestern Business College in New Mexico and Metropolitan State College in Denver, where he majored in business management.

Hamilton is a member and chairman of the board for Pearlington United Methodist Church, where he serves as a lay speaker.

He has been a UMC youth counselor for the past 25 years.

Hamilton is also a member of the Oak Harbor Homeowners' Association and a former member of the Pearlington Volunteer Fire Department, where his wife Doretta Hamilton served as treasurer.

Hamilton and his wife have four sons, David Hamilton, Bill Hamilton, Ivan Hamilton and John Hamilton who is a graduate of Hancock North Central High School; and one daughter, Emily Hamilton, a junior at Bay Senior High School.

HNC Elementary PTO planning Halloween, fund-raiser events

Hancock North Central Parent Teacher Organization will meet at the school cafeteria at 7 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 23.

"Interested and concerned parents and teachers are encouraged to attend," said Tony Caston of Dedeaux, PTO vice president.

Meeting agenda will include discussion of planned Halloween Carnival set for 5-7 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 30.

"The carnival will feature fun and food, including prize game booths, spook house, apple bobbing, hotdogs and more," Caston added.

A committee of teachers and parents is already working on the project, however more volunteers are needed.

"If you wish to help, call Chris Caston at 25-9750 or Diann Sones, PTO president, at 255-7592.

Fund-raising projects for the remainder of the school year will also be discussed.

Open house tentatively set for November also will be discussed. Dr. Diane Tucker, principal, will attend.

"Meetings this year are stressing the positive aspects of our school system, so come out and discuss some of your ideas to make the system even better—we are open to all suggestions," Caston stated.

It's almost Halloween time once more and that means Jack O'Lanterns and trick-or-treating and apples on a stick, or apples in a tub for ducking, apples and pumpkins for cooking when the fun's over.

Apples have pleased mankind's taste buds ever since Adam and Eve, haven't they? So, after the youngsters have finished bobbing for apples on Halloween, salvage some and, while singing that old ditty, "Shoo-fly Pie and Apple Pandowdy make your eyes light up and your tummy say 'Howdy,'" get busy in the kitchen. You'll be glad you did.

Apple Pandowdy is a pioneer days pie of sorts, created by resourceful cooks before there were any rolling pins or pie pans around the kitchen hearth—and many apple lovers still prefer this very old-time dessert to apple pie or other apple pastries.

Here's:
ANYONE'S GREAT-GREAT PLUS-SOME-GRANDMOTHER'S APPLE PANDOWDY

3 cups sliced apples
½ cup dark brown sugar, firmly packed
¼ tsp. each ground cinnamon and nutmeg
¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup granulated sugar
1 egg
¾ cup sifted flour
¼ tsp. baking powder
¾ cup milk
Dash of salt
Cream

Arrange apples in a one-quart baking dish, and sprinkle with the brown sugar and the spices. Bake in a preheated moderate (375 degrees) oven for 30 minutes or so, until the apples are soft.

Meanwhile, cream the butter or margarine with the sugar, adding the sugar gradually, and beat until fluffy. Add the eggs, and beat well together, they add the sifted dry ingredients alternately with the milk, beating until smooth.

Spread the mixture over the apples, and bake for 30 minutes. Serve warm, with cream poured over. (Four or more servings.)

FACTS YOU SHOULD KNOW...

Thirty-one of the 50 states, including Mississippi, are now in recession with high unemployment, largely due to the record trade deficits in heavy manufacturing, agriculture, hi-tech and most other sectors of the economy. Last month alone, another 450,000 jobs were shipped overseas. This is the Republican Party's gift to America's working families.

Trade has become a major political issue because the Republican Party leadership is out of touch with America's heartland. We're losing jobs in every congressional district, but still the Republicans say everything is fine... the economy is breezing along.

Voters are beginning to realize that the only way they can send a message to the Republicans to pay attention to the problems in middle America is to make them pay a political price. That means voting Democratic.

Would you do something for me in order that one day I may have an opportunity to do something for you? Ignore the rhetoric and political propaganda that surely must come from my opponent's well financed campaign.

Symphonic, rock music a highlight Friday 'Toast' event

Christine Tigges, third grade teacher at Coast Episcopal Elementary School in Bay St. Louis, plays the violin in the Gulf Coast Symphony Orchestra which will perform at Friday's Toast To The Coast fund raiser for the Coast Episcopal Schools.

The orchestra membership includes players from Baton Rouge, La., to Pensacola, Fla.

Other local players include two NASA employees, Sandra May, violinist, and Michael Brody, flutist. The orchestra is a professional group with two high school students who play as apprentice members.

Some orchestra personnel play in the Mobile Opera Orchestra, the Pensacola Symphony, and the Merdian Symphony and can make a living from playing their instruments. Others are teachers and faculty members of universities in Mississippi, Alabama, and Florida.

James Shannon of Gulfport, conductor and the musical director, founded the orchestra 24 years ago.

The orchestra, to date, is one of the few in the United States which has consistently remained in the black financially.

In September, the Gulf Coast Symphony Orchestra moved to the larger performance facilities of the Saenger Auditorium from the 1200-seat Biloxi High School Auditorium.

Bay firefighter qualifies as area's first 'smoke diver'

BY DENA BISNETTE

Bay St. Louis Fire Department now has its first "Smoke Diver."

Firefighter Gary T. Maurice recently completed the 23rd Smoke Diver class at the State Fire Academy in Jackson, receiving special training for use in search and rescue missions carried out under extreme conditions.

The designation also qualifies Maurice as a nationally certified firefighter and a Smoke Diver instructor, Bay St. Louis Fire Chief Andrew Lissana said.

In addition to search and rescue, Maurice is now trained to get people out of high-rise buildings during fires.

That training includes techniques used to rescue people from stopped elevators and rappelling up and down the outside of buildings as well as in interior structures like elevator shafts.

He has also been trained in the use of self-contained breathing apparatus and in how to dismantle, repair and reassemble the equipment used.

"This training will be something we can use on all structure fires. It's something extra that will help us take better care of the community and its citizens," Lissana said.

The Smoke Diver training will also enable Maurice to take a firefighter who has less specialized training into extreme conditions and to guide him through a search and rescue mission, the chief added.

Maurice called the five-day course "very physically and mentally taxing."

"We started about the same time each day but the day continued until we completed everything we were supposed to do. Nothing was held over until the next day."

He said firefighters must pass a physical examination before being allowed to take the course and may have to discontinue training at any point if physical problems occur.

"If the physical shows that a man has a heart condition that he didn't know about or something else wrong with him, he may not even be allowed to start the training," Maurice explained.

"You really have to want to do this. We had one guy who went into the academy's heated building and when they kept turning up the heat, he passed out. They carried him off in an ambulance, but he came back later that day and finished. That's real dedication."

"I was there with the best of the best," he said, adding that his group included the state's second woman to pass the smoke diver course.

The smoke divers train as a group for the first two days, then work in pairs for the remaining three days.

Maurice said his training partner, Bobby Wilkins of the Starkville Fire Department, was a good example of a firefighter who really wanted to complete the smoke diver course.

"Bobby Wilkins is 44 years old and is the oldest smoke diver to ever complete the course. The cut-off age is usually 35 but he passed the physical and they let him into the program anyway," Maurice said.

"He was definitely a top-rated partner."

Training in pairs required that partners be no more than arm's length apart at any time and that they practice non-verbal communications to keep from having to remove their breathing apparatus to talk.

Everything is done while wearing the breathing apparatus, including runs that start and end the day.

"Most of your time is spent wearing full gear and the breathing apparatus, including the morning run. That stuff is heavy, but becoming used to wearing the mask really cures you of hyperventilation and claustrophobia," Maurice said.

He explained that firefighters unfamiliar with the apparatus have a tendency to hyperventilate because the equipment provides more oxygen than normal breathing does.

The training includes lots of physical work and tests, the smoke diver added.

"In addition to being put out for physical reasons, you can be put out of the program for any mental slip or for failing any of the tests. Everything you do is watched and anything you do wrong gives you a half-mile penalty lap at the end of the day," Maurice said.

Some of the tests included dressing in full gear in 30 seconds or less three times consecutively, walking 20 feet on a four-inch-wide beam carrying a two-and-one-half-inch hose, rappelling from the third story of a five story building, finding and rescuing a dummy from a smoke-filled maze and searching a heated building.

"The training is very similar to what I received from our local training officer, Mike Wilkins, but we don't have the facilities that the academy can provide," Maurice added.

"Without the training Mike gave me I could never have passed the course. It was almost like taking the training from him and then going up there to pass the test."

Bay man charged in marijuana sale

BY DENA BISNETTE

A Bay St. Louis man was arrested Monday afternoon after allegedly selling a quarter-pound of marijuana to an undercover officer.

Bay St. Louis Police Chief Ray Murphy said Weldon Potest, 26, a resident of Bayview Apartments at 3781 Union St., was arrested at his residence at about 3:30 p.m. Monday by a group of Bay police officers.

Potest was allegedly in possession of a second quarter-pound of marijuana, the chief added.

Possession or sale of more than one ounce of marijuana is a felony charge.

Potest was charged with one count each of sale of a controlled substance and possession of a controlled substance.

Murphy said bond on the sale charge had been set at $10,000 and bond on the possession charge had been set at $5,000.

Humane Society slates pumpkin carving contest

place from noon until 2:30 p.m. Families, groups, and individuals are invited to participate.

Participants must bring their own tools, markers, etc. Complete rules are available from posters at major local grocery stores or by calling Joyce Olsman at 467-8866.

Bay school board delays selection of architect

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District Board has postponed indefinitely a special meeting called for selection of an architect for the district's long-range building program.

The board meeting, originally set for Monday, was called off Monday afternoon because only two board members were able to attend.

Board members L.D. Carter and Reginald Robinson were the only two available that night.

The five-member board can not meet unless a quorum of at least three members is present.

Superintendent of Education Roger Oge said the meeting will be rescheduled on a date to be selected by Board President Betty Diboll.

The board was supposed to have chosen one of three architectural firms selected as finalists from the 14 firms that presented proposals to the board on Sept. 29.

The finalists included one Bay St. Louis architect, Fred Wagner, and two Biloxi firms, Compton and Bolton, and Fountain and Lamas.

LYDIA D. SCHULTZ is shown with "a hummingbird" exhibit at the Hancock County-Bay St. Louis Library located on Hwy. 90 in Bay St. Louis. The collection is designed to display a variety of hummingbird feeders and to dispel some myths about hummers. The exhibit will be on display through the month of October.

OFFICIALS AT MEETING—The Master Plan for Shorefront Protection and Utilization was presented Wednesday afternoon to the Sand Beach Executive Council, Advisory Councils and other interested parties. Listening to the presentation on the front row from left, were, Hancock County Supervisor Sam Perniciaro, Hancock County Engineer Larry Seal, and Hancock County Supervisor Roger Dale Ladner. about $500,000 in the beach fund at this time from seawall and road protection funds.

It was reported that the monies for the bonded indebtedness for the Hancock County Port and Harbor bonds is in escrow.

Jeff Taylor, of Southern Mississippi Planning and Development District said, the next need now was for the formation of some type of Sand Beach Authority in Hancock County.

"Now the Corps of Engineers cannot tell Hancock County it does not have a plan, as we have something to show them. Also the county has already come up with some $70,000 for a study now underway which may eventually mean some $3-5 million from federal funds, Taylor added.

Taylor also indicated some initial report should come by the first of the year from the Corps of Engineers on the study now underway on shore protection.

Taylor emphasized, "This plan is designed to meet the needs for Hancock County residents as well as tourists."

Mention was made how the county has been working with it's engineer in repairing the most serious areas of Beach Boulevard.

In a cover letter in the Master Plan Dr. Leard stated:

"I am delighted that the Plan has been completed and that we can direct our attention to implementation."

"During the planning period we investigated many problems, proposed solutions and learned to compromise. We considered existing public and private concerns, and remembering that progress entails change, boldly sought out the best ways to create new economic opportunities while preserving present and traditional uses."

"The Plan would never have been developed without tremendous enthusiasm brought to the work table by the Technical Advisory Council and each of its members. Public officials, private groups and individuals contributed their best efforts and exercised outstanding leadership to bring this Master Plan to completion."

"I believe this Plan is an excellent instrument for the successful implementation of beachfront improvement and carefully planned development. It expresses the genuine desire of our communities to utilize this valuable resource without damaging it, and at the same time promote it as an economic asset."

"The Bureau of Marine Resources is proud to have played a role in the beachfront planning process, and I appreciate the role you have allowed me to play in this endeavor."

sponsored public hearing Monday night at Gulfview Elementary School.

"I just heard this questioned today, I understand that an attorney general's opinion is being sought, but I really don't know how to answer you yet," Planning Commission Attorney John Scaife Jr. told the group attending the hearing.

The people at the hearing included residents of Waveland, Clermont Harbor, Lakeshore, Bayou Phillips, Shoreline Park, BaySide Park and Rocky Hill.

Rodney Reeves of Rocky Hill, the only resident of the northern section of the county who spoke, said residents above Interstate-10 are opposed to a building code and many believe that the code is still being proposed only for the area south of I-10.

The supervisors had originally proposed the code for the area below I-10 because of problems with sewerage, but Keyes opinion said that it is against state law to implement a code for only part of the county.

Most of the residents of the other areas represented indicated that they favor a code.

Scaife, Commissioners Victor Green, Herbert J. Marsh III and Woodrow Ladner, County Fire Marshal Jay Marsh and several local contractors who deal with various aspects of construction gave a presentation regarding what would be covered under the code, then answered questions for about an hour.

The proposed code is the Revised Southern Standard Building Code, which includes the Southern Standard Fire Code and the State Fire Safety Code.

In addition, standard plumbing, mechanical and electrical codes would be utilized, Scaife said.

The codes would apply only to new construction and new installation of trailers, whether the trailers are new or used. Any existing buildings or already installed trailers will fall under a grandfather clause.

While the code would not rid the county of existing violations, it would help by keeping any new ones from coming in, County Building Inspector Donn Murray said.

Murray presently inspects elevation requirements and other aspects of the county's flood control standards, which apply only to flood-prone areas and not to the entire county.

"The reason I am for a building code is that it will cut down on some of the shacks, campers off their wheels, buses and tents," he explained.

Most of the questions concerned permits, inspections, costs and what type of buildings would be covered by the code.

The estimated $30,200 cost of setting up a system that will enforce the code would come from the general county fund, Scaife said.

The building code office would probably operate at a deficit for the first two to three years, then would begin to pay its own costs, Murray added.

He said a similar office established in Harrison County several years ago is now making a profit.

Lisa Coward to ratify the commission's action was defeated 3-2 with Councilmen Wilmer Seymour, James Thriftley and Charles Johnson opposing the motion.

The council then voted 4-1 to table the issue, with Wilkerson voting nay.

Frankiewicz said he was very disappointed to see the hospital tie the two issues together and recommended the council take the matter to the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, actual property owners.

The council authorized Frankiewicz to approach the supervisors with a request for the easement.

"The work has just begun, we have the great challenge of accomplishing this significant task in one year," he added.

"Our agency needs this stand to implement its significant test plan for the engine before the next flight in early 1988 and we intend to meet this challenge head-on," Hlass said.

Truly reported despite recent difficulties, the budget just received is the highest ever, including full replacement funds for the destroyed shuttle.

"When we get back to flights, we will be back in a big way," he said.

NSTL plays a big part in getting the space shuttle program back on track and the recent successful main engine test here was a "shot in the arm to all in the program," Truly added.

evidence, has been sent to the crime laboratory for tests. Police Chief Ray Murphy said results of those tests are expected back Friday.

"The victim was one of the proprietors of Ladner's Grocery in Lakeshore and had been seen last between 1 a.m. and 1:30 a.m. at Little Donna's Lounge on US-90 in Waveland.

She had reportedly been celebrating her 35th birthday and had left the lounge with Ryan, Murtagh said.

Vizzini was only partially clothed when found and was lying on the floor of one of the rooms in the trailer.

Ryan reportedly had a key to the trailer.

Authorities have Ryan's Oklahoma driver's license which was being held by Waveland Police Department in connection with a traffic violation.

Information obtained through the Hancock County Sheriff's Department Monday afternoon showed that the suspect is wanted for automobile theft in Port Aransas, Texas.

The Bay Police Department has contacted law enforcement authorities in other states regarding the case, but Police Chief Ray Murphy said it is possible that Ryan may be heading toward Oklahoma or Missouri because he has relatives in those states.

Assisting Bay Police Department in addition to the coroner and Crime Laboratory personnel are Hancock County Sheriff's Department, Waveland Police Department and Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol.

A 45-minute roadblock at Chartres Street and Dunbar Avenue Tuesday night was not connected to the murder investigation, according to Murphy.

Further details on the roadblock were not available.

Assisting the Bay St. Louis Police Department at the scene in addition to the coroner and crime laboratory personnel were Waveland Police Department, Hancock County Sheriff's Department and Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol.

Bay-Waveland Yacht Club wins third 1986 national sailing championship

Winning 19 consecutive match races, Marc Eagan, Randy Santa Cruz and Dennis Stieffel of the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club clinched the United States Match Racing Championship for the Prince of Wales Bowl.

These three were honored at the recent BWYC awards banquet along with other BWYC sailing competitors of three first place finishes. This event is held each year in conjunction with the GYA Opening Regatta in Flying Scots and all team members must have reached their 50th birthday.

5. BWYC won the Mississippi Coast Yachting Association's Chapman Regatta and the Chapman Memorial Trophy for the 10th consecutive year. Each year competitors include MCYA seven-member yacht clubs including Bay-Waveland, Pass Christian, Long Beach, Gulfport, Biloxi, Ocean Springs and Singing River clubs.

The Chapman Regatta is hosted by MCYA yacht clubs on a rotational basis from east to west. In 1986 it was hosted by Pass Christian Yacht Club and in 1987, it will be hosted by Long Beach Yacht Club. It is a team racing event consisting of a four-race series. Each club enters four boats, skippers and eight crew members in each race with a total of 16 different skippers for the series.

As the record show, BWYC has dominated the event since 1971.

6. BWYC hosted its third major national sailing championship event in 1986, the United States Junior Sailing Championships for the Sears Cup, Bemis and Smythe trophies. This competition began in 1921 when the Sears Cup was placed in competition by Commodore Herbert M. Sears of the Eastern Yacht Club of Marblehead, Mass.

There were 10 entries in each category for a total of 30 boats. The other national championships hosted by BWYC are the United States Men's Sailing Championship for the Clifford D. Mallory Cup in 1980 and the Flying Scot North American Championship in 1983.

7. BWYC won the 67th GYA Championship Regatta and the Sir Thomas J. Lipton Challenge Trophy for the fourth time in five years, the seventh time in 18 years and the 10th time in 16 years for a total of 11 times. The competition started in 1921. In 1986, BWYC won the 23 boat, four-race series with an almost perfect score of 4.25 points and race finishes of (1-2-1-1).

8. In 1986 BWYC won national championship sailing events including the Flying Scot North American Championship, the Flying Scot Canadian National Championship and the United States Match Racing Championship for the Prince of Wales Bowl.

That brings the total of national sailing championships to 16 since the first one in 1973.

These include Flying Scot Mid-winter Championship (five times) 1973, 1976, 1978, 1979 and 1980; Flying Scot North American Championship (five times) 1977, 1978, 1983, 1985 and 1986; United States Women's Sailing Championship for the Mrs. Charles Frances Adams Cup (two times) 1977 and 1980; 1981 United States Men's Sailing Championship for the Clifford D. Mallory Cup; 1983 United States Team Race Championship for the George H. Hinman Trophy; 1986 Flying Scot Canadian National Championship and 1986 United States Match Racing Championship for the Prince of Wales Bowl.

One single year that will rank very close to this year's significant achievements is 1977 when Capt. Peter A. Morrill, currently BWYC Rear Commodore was the race com-second place; and Peter Merrifield, third place.

petitors for intra-club sailing competition and for significant achievements and accomplishments in local, regional and national sailing events.

According to BWYC Race Committee Chairman Edgar W. Santa Cruz III, the 500 member yacht club will complete its most successful year in sailing achievements and accomplishments.

"This is a bold statement since BWYC has previously had some very successful years in sailing," he said.

BWYC 1986 accomplishments include the following:

1—BWYC won the Commodore Auguste Capdevielle Trophy for the year of 1986 for the 12th consecutive year and 13 of the past 14 years.

Based on Gulf Yachting Association Capdevielle competition results to date, BWYC will win the Capdevielle Trophy in 1986. The award is presented in May of each year at the GYA Opening Regatta.

The competition is open to all 27 GYA yacht clubs and is sailed in club-owned Flying Scots with each club providing their own boat, sails and equipment. GYA Capdevielle competition begins each year in May with the GYA Opening Regatta and ends with the Sugar Bowl Regatta in late December.

There are 14 designated GYA Capdevielle regattas each year and GYA yacht clubs are scored in these events to determine their standing in the competition. BWYC has participated in 10 of the designated Capdevielle events in 1986 to date and has accumulated a scoring record of 1-1-1-2-2-5-5-1-5-1, which is strong enough at this point to secure the award for this year.

2—BWYC won the GYA Trophy for Excellence in Race Management for the first time which is presented in May of each year at the GYA Opening Regatta. It was won for the GYA Championship Regatta for the Sir Thomas J. Lipton Challenge Trophy which was hosted in 1986 by BWYC with Walter Chamberlain serving as principal race officer.

3—BWYC won the GYA Opening Regatta and the Commodore J. Gilbert Scheib trophy for the fifth time in six years. This trophy has been in competition for eight years and is a designated GYA Capdevielle event. Pontchartrain Yacht Club was this year's host. The event is always hosted by the club of the most recently elected commodore of the GYA.

4. BWYC won the GYA Old Timer Regatta and the John Dene Trophy for the first time with a perfect score secutive year. Each year competitors include MCYA seven-member yacht clubs including Bay-Waveland, Pass Christian, Long Beach, Gulfport, Biloxi, Ocean Springs and Singing River clubs.

The Chapman Regatta is hosted by MCYA yacht clubs on a rotational basis from east to west. In 1986 it was hosted by Pass Christian Yacht Club and in 1987, it will be hosted by Long Beach Yacht Club. In 1986, BWYC won the 23 boat, four-race series with an almost perfect score of 4.25 points and race finishes of (1-2-1-1).

8. In 1986 BWYC won national championship sailing events including the Flying Scot North American Championship, the Flying Scot Canadian National Championship and the United States Match Racing Championship for the Prince of Wales Bowl.

That brings the total of national sailing championships to 16 since the first one in 1973.

These include Flying Scot Mid-winter Championship (five times) 1973, 1976, 1978, 1979 and 1980; Flying Scot North American Championship (five times) 1977, 1978, 1983, 1985 and 1986; United States Women's Sailing Championship for the Mrs. Charles Frances Adams Cup (two times) 1977 and 1980; 1981 United States Men's Sailing Championship for the Clifford D. Mallory Cup; 1983 United States Team Race Championship for mittee chairman.

Although there is no single predominate factor, Santa Cruz attributes the present sailing success of BWYC to a unique sailing environment with numerous components and a winning attitude about the sport of sailing which has been developing since the club was established under the leadership of Commodore John E. Bell Jr. in 1949.

These components have jelled in the right mix over the years and the winning attitude has grown stronger with each victory collectively as a team and with individuals from winning the Junior Class for the C. A. Breath Trophy at BWYC to winning a national sailing championship event such as the U. S. Match Racing Championship for Prince of Wales Bowl at Larchmont Yacht Club on Long Island Sound in New York.

As a note of interest, Marc Eagan at age 11 won the C. A. Breath Trophy in 1966 and 20 years later, won the Prince of Wales Bowl.

BWYC has a wealth of very good sailing competitors capable of winning major national sailing events and providing a very substantial degree of depth to the BWYC sailing team.

As an individual however, Marc Eagan has earned the most notches to date. He has become a very outstanding sailing competitor having participated in numerous BWYC victories and as a helmsman in nine of their 16 national championships.

Undefeated Hawks climb to sixth

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

The Hancock North Central Hawks will be facing a must win situation this week against George County to have a chance at the district championship.

"If we win this week against the Rebels, we will play at Iberville Nov. 7 for the district title," Head Coach Irvin Favre said.

This is a really big district game for the Hawks and also their last home game, he added.

Although the Rebels have a 3-4 season record, Favre says, the Hawk defense is really going to be tested this week.

George County runs out of the power-I offensive lineup and is led by Johnny Sargent, "a fine running back," he said.

Favre believes the average size of the Rebel offensive line at 216 pounds might give the Hawks some trouble.

"They have a good running attack and a big line, our defense will have their hands full stopping that powerful offense," he added.

Defensively, George County has played two shut out games and have always been known for a tough defensive line, Favre said.

"They are equally strong on offense and defense. With 57 players taking turns on the field, their players don't get tired by running both ways as many of the Hawks do," he added.

Favre said the Hawks have had better blocking in the past couple of games by the offensive line but it must continue this week, making holes to allow scoring.

"George County always plays you tough, but we have a good chance to win," he said.

"But in order to get that win, the Hawks must go out there and play some good, inspired and emotional football," Favre added.

He also said Hawks who had played last week with nagging injuries are now in top shape and the Hancock team overall will be in better physical condition.

In the Mississippi high school football rankings, the Hawks moved up to sixth this week in Associated Press' Top 20.

The top five are Meridian, Warren Central, Rosedale, Tupelo and Moss Point. Others in the top 20 are Newton, Neshoba Central, Clarksdale, Starkville, West Point, Eupora, South Pike, Piquette, Grenville, Amory, Kosciusko, Magee, Harrison Central and Stone County. For the Long Beach game, Quarterback Brett Favre with two touchdowns runs and one TD pass was named offensive player of the week.

In addition, the senior quarterback led a "super" defensive drive in the last quarter to allow the Hawk win, Favre said.

Defensive End Chris Lacoste was selected as defensive player of the week.

Favre said Lacoste had an outstanding game all night against Long Beach and really put a lot of pressure on their quarterback.

Eight prep football standouts named in weekly selections

Eight area high school football players are named for 'Player Of The Week' honors this week by sponsors of the program, Lojano's Health Club and Trophies by Ricky Geoffrey.

Four Hancock North Central grid-ders are cited based on play in games against St. Martin and Long Beach.

In Friday's Long Beach contest, Hawk quarterback Brett Favre ran for two touchdowns, threw two touchdown passes and completed two two-point conversion passes to take offensive honors.

Defensive honors in the Hawk-Bearcat contest go to Chris Lacoste who is credited with keeping pressure on the Long Beach quarterback throughout the game.

In the Hawk-Yellow Jacket fray the previous week, HNC fullback

Charles Burton is named outstanding offensive player with 11 carries for 106 yards and three touchdowns.

Hawk Norris Chaisson nailed six Bearcat runners and assisted in bringing down six others to take the defensive plaque.

Bay High's Brian Laheaux carried 10 times for 136 yards against Long Beach. He is the offensive 'Player' in that game.

Tiger Greg Necaise is credited with 11 assists and six solo tackles to capture defensive honors in the Long Beach game.

In Friday's Stanislaus-Riverdale game, lineman Charley Beech is the outstanding offensive player for the Rocks.

William Homes chaulked four solo and five assisted tackles, including key stops to win the SSC defensive honors.

CEHS Raiders break streak with big win in BR

The Coast Episcopal High School Raiders registered their first win of the season against the perennially tough Central Baptist Warriors of Baton Rouge.

The Raiders played a complete game both offensively and defensively to register a 13 to 6 win.

The game was extremely close all the way with penalties providing the difference.

The Warriors had several opportunities to score inside the Raiders' 15 yard line but came up empty due to an extremely tough Raider defense.

The Raider defense played solidly, holding Central scoreless the first half.

The first Raider score came after Billy Guice picked off a Central fumble in mid-air and returned it to the six yard line.

Three plays later the Raiders had the lead at 6 to 0 with Victor Marchese going over for the touchdown.

That lead held up through half-time.

In the third quarter, Central scored, but missed the extra point attempt. The remainder of the third and fourth quarters were a defensive struggle for both teams. The Raiders managed another touchdown in the fourth quarter on a misdirection power sweep play with Sterling Thibodeaux going 28 yards for the score. Billy Guice converted on the extra point.

Highlights of the game included Sterling Thibodeaux with 39 yards rushing, Rea Montjoy and Chris Riggs with 18 and 17 yards on pass receptions. Defensively Mike Hart had 24 tackles and Sterling Thibodeaux had 12.

The key to victory was the Raiders' errorless play. They committed no called infractions.

It was an excellent team effort; the best of the year with the Raiders earning a hard fought game over a team that had only lost one game this year.

The Raiders have this week off but return to action on Oct. 31, Halloween Night, when they travel to Milton, Fla. to meet the extremely fast Stewart Street Academy.

Game time is set for 7:30 p.m.

Rocks seek elusive win against East Central Friday

The St. Stanislaus Rockchaw football team will be searching for that elusive first victory of the season when they travel to Hurley to tangle with the East Central Hornets.

East Central presently has a 3-4 record, having beaten Mercy Cross, Vancleave, and Our Lady of Victories in Pascagoula. Among their four losses were a 3-0 thrashing by Bay High and a 19-13 squeaker to Pass High.

In reviewing the East Central game films to prepare for their opponent, Coach Powell noted that the Hornets run their offense with two tight ends and a wingback. From this power formation, East Central's attack is directed straight at the defense, with little misdirection plays.

"To beat East Central we not only have to continue to move the ball on offense, we have to put points on the board," said Coach Powell. "We need a total team effort this week. We've got a good football team and now we have to show it."

SSC is getting excellent leadership from freshman quarterback Shannon Garrett, sophomore running back Gino Ascani, and hard-running junior tailbacks YaSin Shabazz and Jorge Ponjuan.

The offensive line of the Rocks has been adjusted during the course of the season due to injuries and illnesses.

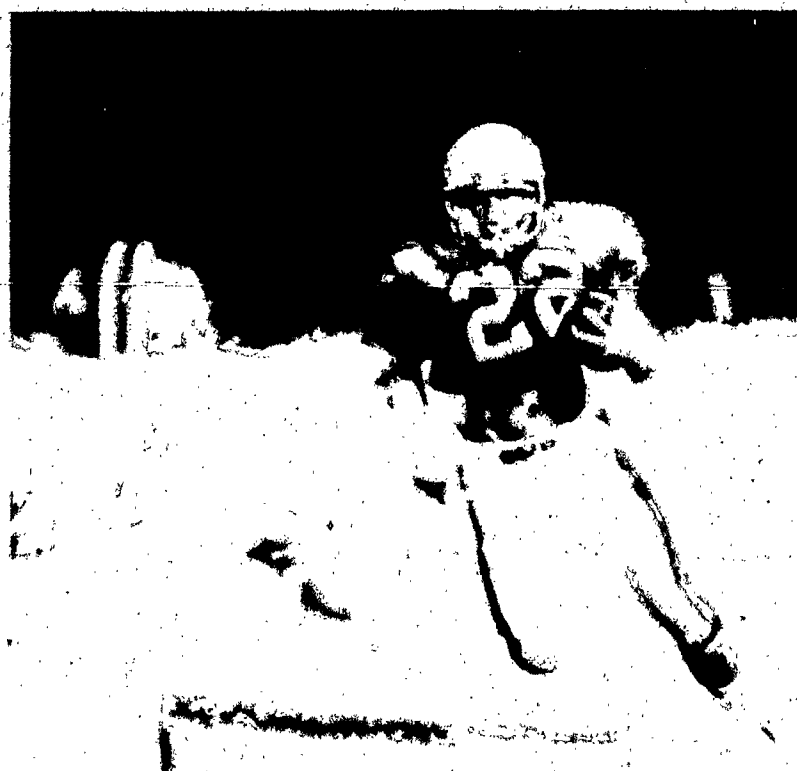

Coach Powell continued, "Defensively, we'll do a much better job this week. Offensively, we will run the option more this week to spread out East Central's defense. And once we're inside of their 20 yard line we must score."

This past week has been nine weeks examinations at St. Stanislaus. Coach Powell said the team will enjoy playing Friday night after the pressure from exams are over. Coach Powell added "Despite exams and the long ride to Hurley, we are looking forward to our best effort of the season."

ROCK DEFENSE—St. Stanislaus guard William Homes (55) and running back Gino Ascani (21) pursue the Riverdale ball carrier in homecoming action at the Rock's stadium in Bay St. Louis. The winless Rocks will seek to break the ice Friday in Jackson County against East Central's Hornets. Kickoff will be at 7:30 p.m. (SSC photo)

RUNNING BACK Jack Simpson, 22, of the St. Stanislaus Rockchaws looks for running room in the Friday homecoming contest against Riverdale at SSC's Bay St. Louis stadium. The Rocks will meet the East Central Hornets in Jackson County at 7:30 p.m. Friday. (SSC photo)

Wildcats to call up third qb for Delta Trojans

POPLARVILLE.— Pearl River college will try to get back on the winning track this week when the Wildcats take on the Mississippi Delta Trojans Thursday night in Moorhead.

Last week the PRC 'Cats dropped a hard-fought 14-9 decision to league-leading and 7-1 Copiah-Lincoln Wolves at Wesson. The loss, the second in a row for the once 4-0 Wildcats, put PRC's record at 5-3 overall and 3-2 in the tough South Division.

Mathematically the Wildcats still have a chance to reach the playoffs. But the outcome is in someone else's hands. If the Gulf Coast Bulldogs lose this week to Co-Lin, and then to the Holmes Bulldogs, and if the Wildcats win their last two games, the 'Cats would be in post season play.

That's a lot of ifs. So what the Wildcats have to do is concentrate on at least finishing the season with a very respectable 7-3 ledger.

"I thought our defense played well enough to win this past week," said Mike Nelson, the Wildcat's head coach. "We gave up some yardage, but we really tightened up inside our 20 and allowed just two touchdowns."

The Wildcats offense on the other hand has been stymied during its last three ballgames. "We have hurt ourselves more than the opposition," Nelson said in reference to his 'Cats' bad case of the turnovers.

Against East Central the Wildcats turned the ball over numerous times but were still good enough to win 14-7. Against Gulf Coast and Co-Lin, the league's top two teams, miscues meant defeat on both Saturdays.

This past week Pearl River put together three good drives in the first half and marched to the Co-Lin 22 and one in the second half before giving up the pigskin.

This week the wildcats take on the Mississippi Delta Trojans, winners only once this season. "We should be heavily favored this week," Nelson said. "But you can't take anything for granted in this league."

Another problem facing Nelson and his staff, other than the fact the game is on Thursday and its 300 miles away, is that both 'Cat quarterbacks are injured and third stringer Derrick Walker will probably get the call at the starting signal calling spot.

Walker, a freshman out of New Orleans, has played only a few downs this season and that came back in the third outing of the season against Northeast.

Here in '86 the quarterbacking chores have been handled by sophomore Scott Favre and freshman Gerald Tillman. Nelson has alternated the two almost equally during the first eight encounters.

Tillman has a sprained ankle while Favre is nursing bruised ribs. Favre is out for sure, however, Tillman may be able to play as a backup.

"If we were playing on Saturday and not Thursday, Tillman would probably be ready to start," Nelson said. "But I really don't think we will have time to get him ready by Thursday."

The Wildcats have not played the Trojans since the 1981 season. In fact, the Wildcats tied up with the Trojans twice that year. In the regular season contest PRC won 27-14 and then in the playoffs the Wildcats took a 19-7 decision to advance to the championship.

The Wildcats won over the Delta team in 1974, '75, '79 and '80 but the two played to a 7-7 tie in '78.

Back in 1973 PRC defeated the Trojans 17-14 during the regular season but lost 21-17 in the championship game.

Thurman Geathers paced the Wildcat offense this past week, picking up 111 yards on 11 carries and scoring one touchdown. As usual, Marshall Roberts, Roy Wayne Jones, Greg Amacker and Stanford Lewis paced the defense.

Pearl River has a commanding 21-0-2 record against the Trojans.

Tigers return to action in St. Martin grudge

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Bay St. Louis Senior High Tigers, fresh from an open week on the schedule, will be back on the football field Friday at St. Martin in Jackson County.

The Tigers will have to overcome the Yellow Jackets' homecoming spirit Friday as well as several talented ball players, Bay Head Coach Cleveland Williams said.

"St. Martin, over the past few years, has become as much of a rival for us as some of the local teams," Williams said.

"We played them last year for our homecoming and we won by only one point," the coach said, referring to a 1985 game saved by a second half Tiger comeback and a single point from a PAT kick.

The previous year, the outcome of the game was also determined by a single point when Tigers lost to homecoming St. Martin 8-7 after the Yellow Jackets ran a two-point conversion.

"This will be a very important game for our team because past games against St. Martin have always been such hard-fought battles throughout all four quarters," the coach added.

St. Martin, a 4-A school, has a 2-4 season record, but Williams said the statistics are deceiving.

"Their losses come from schools that are 5-A and 4-A, and we're just a little 3-A school. I feel St. Martin will play hard against the Tigers and their ability to both run and pass the ball is strong because they have one of the best receivers I've seen so far," the coach said.

That receiver is someone the Tigers have run into before, Williams said. He is Kenny McAtee, a 136-pound senior who troubled Bay High with his talents in last year's game.

In addition, the Tigers will also have the opportunity to get reacquainted with Tommy Weldy, a 190-pound senior fullback who showed Bay High his speed in last year's game.

Two St. Martin sophomores are also expected to be key players for the Tiger defense to stop. They include Charles Polk, a fast 180-pound tailback, and Jerry Hilton, a 180-pound quarterback with a quick release on his passes, Williams said.

"Defensively, we will definitely have to play better than we did for our homecoming against Long Beach, and we are making other adjustments to protect ourselves from their offensive attack," the coach said.

On offense, the Tigers are expecting to have to employ a well-balanced attack to get past the Yellow Jacket defense.

"We will have to establish a passing attack this week so we can get our running game back. We have worked through our off week on our weaknesses and we realize what St. Martin does well," Williams said.

The coach said an additional problem the Tigers may have to face will be mental, with so many people asking the coaches and athletes about the next game, the Oct. 31 clash with county rival Hancock North Central.

"I don't expect us to have a problem with that at this point, but there are a lot of people talking about it."

"We need to look at one ballgame at a time and not worry about the big one next week. That's our biggest concern. We must play St. Martin and get past them before we can think about Hancock."

One of the Tigers, Doral Nicholas, will be out of action this week.

"He has done a tremendous job so far and he will be missed," Williams said.

Prospective starters on offense this week include Dwayne Robinson, quarterback; Mark Haverly, fullback; Brian Leneaux, running back; Andrew Collins, wingback; Dante Curry, split end; Robert Hargett, tight end; William Ross, center; Greg Necaise and Jerry Island, guards; and Geja Carter and Courtney Laureys, tackles.

Defensive starters are expected to include Amadeo Collins and Island, tackles; Carter and Hargett, defensive ends; Necaise, Ross and Haverly, linebackers; Wayne Karl, strong safety; Britt Woods, free safety; and Quentin Bell and Curry, cornerbacks.

Game time is 7:30 at St. Martin, which is located off the Ocean Springs exit of Interstate-10.

test line while night fishing and fought for more than an hour to land it with assistance from his father, John Longe Jr., and Jay Fiebert, also of Waveland. (Staff photo by Deana Blumette)

Tower construction begins

TALLADEGA, Ala.—Ground-breaking ceremonies for an elevated grandstand to be known as the Anniston Tower were held Monday at Alabama International Motor Speedway.

The 2,500-seat tower, the first seating addition at the world's fastest speedway since 1977, will bring the reserved seating capacity at Talladega to 72,000.

The Anniston Tower is part of a capital improvements project that will also include additional restrooms and concession stands. The total cost of the project is more than half a million dollars. The contractor is Cheaha Construction Company, of Talladega.

Located above the Anniston grandstand, the new tower will be completed in time for the 1987 Winston 500 on May 3. It is expected to join the Birmingham Tower as the most popular seating at the track.

"With our reserved seats now being filled on a regular basis, we felt the need to provide more seats for our fans. The Birmingham Tower has proved the most popular seating area for the past several years, and the new Anniston Tower should be just as much in demand," said AIMS general manager Don Naman.

Naman also noted that ticket reservations are now being taken for seats in the new tower.

Southern hospitality awaits runners in Pensacola

PENSACOLA, Fla.—Come south to historic Pensacola, Fla., this winter and enjoy the warm hospitality associated with the Blue Angel Marathon/10K Run. Mark Dec. 6 on your calendar to enjoy either of these fun events.

"As commanding officer of the Navy's oldest air station, dubbed the 'Cradle of Naval Aviation,' I invite you to join in an event which is fast becoming a naval tradition," says Navy Capt. James W. Dickson.

"This is especially fitting as 1986 marks the 75th Anniversary of Naval Aviation. And, as a native Pensacolian, I am equally pleased to have you share the friendliness and hospitality which typifies the relationship of the Navy shares with residents of Pensacola and Escambia County."

The fourth Blue Angel Marathon and second 10K Run underscore the Navy's commitment to the health and well-being of its personnel. And, through these events, the Navy extends a welcome aboard to other service members and civilians, young and old, to participate.

"Aptly named for the Navy's famous flight demonstration squadron which is celebrating its 40th anniversary, the Blue Angel Marathon/10K Run is worthy of your best efforts," concludes Capt. Dickson, as he welcomes runners across the country and around the world to compete.

Last year, Army Spec. 4 Antonio Gonzalez, then stationed in Hawaii, established a record-breaking 2:26:32 mark. His achievement also anchored Army in capturing the men's interservice team championship. Army Lt. Joan Fowler's second place in the overall female competition also paved the way for Army to capture the women's interservice team title. Her biggest competition came from Pensacolian Ginny Hornberger, who defended her title in the overall women's division with a record 2:55:13 time.

Other honors included Master Male, Alton Miquel, 2:41:16; Master Female, Terri Woolbright, 3:37:08; Grand Master Male, Charles Stinson, 3:06:51; and Grand Master Female, Lucienne Hill, 3:51:07. The Wheelchair Division was won by LaVerne Achenbach with a time of 2:13:06, the fastest time of any competitor.

Top civilian team honors went to Pensacola's Athletic Corner, whereas overall military station team honors were awarded to the Army National Guard (Team One).

Times to beat in the 10K Run are Navy Ens. Mark Patterson's 30:55 and Meta Leckband's 37:33, set at last year's inaugural running of the event.

If your competitive adrenalin is pumped up by these events, request an entry form by writing to: Blue Angel Marathon/10K Run, Building 632, Recreation Department, Naval Air Station, Pensacola, FL 32508-5008. Registration for marathon is $12 and $6 for 10K Run. Mailed entries must be postmarked on or later than Dec. 1. Make checks payable to: NAS Recreation Fund.

For additional information on these challenging events, call (904) 452-2150.

George Williams selected executive vice-president of the Catfish Farmers of America

Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce Jim Beck Rose and Leroy Reed, Jr., president of the Catfish Farmers of America, reported the appointment of George Williams as executive vice-president of the association.

Initially created by the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce 36 years ago as a non-profit industry association, the Catfish Farmers of America now represents more than 500 domestic and international members.

The membership represents individuals and companies actively engaged in the production of farmed, cultured catfish, fingerlings of broodfish for commercial purposes.

"Mississippi is proud to play an active role in stimulating positive growth for the catfish industry," said Rose. "I have known George Williams for several years, and am confident that he will provide the association with the same type of innovative programs that he has created in his past positions." Prior to joining the Catfish

Farmers of America, Williams served as president of two companies in New Orleans, providing results-oriented marketing services to clients in tourism, banking and other service related industries.

He first was recruited to New Orleans by officials of Louisiana World Exposition to develop and implement successful "crisis" marketing strategies for the corporation. As vice-president of the expo, his efforts to salvage over 2.1 million visitors and more than $12 million in revenue gained him exposure in such publications as Success Magazine, U.S. News & World Report and the New York Times.

Seven years prior, Williams served as director of tourism for the Mississippi Department of Economic Development. In this position he successfully implemented programs with emphasis on association management and special promotions, such as the state's aggressive involvement in the 1984 World's Fair. This program, which was created and carried out by Williams and his staff, was the largest marketing activity ever launched by Mississippi.

As tourism director, he also held leadership positions with several national associations, providing valuable assistance in corporate strategic planning.

He first served the agriculture industry nearly 15 years ago as a statewide specialist for the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING EVEN THE BEST IDEAS TAKE AGES TO CATCH ON.

Every now and then, a new product becomes popular by word of mouth alone. But that process usually takes many months. Sometimes years. By then, the company that makes the new product may be in serious trouble—if they're around at all.

Advertising is the surest way to get an idea to the public. By advertising a new product or service, more people are able to try it more quickly than if it were allowed to "catch on" by itself.

Good ideas become popular right away and bad ideas...well, who needs a square wheel, anyway?

Summer study fellowships offered to teachers

Foreign language teachers in the high schools on the Coast have the opportunity to apply for $4,500 summer study fellowships offered by the Rockefeller Foundation.

The fellowships were part of a three-year $15 million program that marks the first time Rockefeller Foundation Fellowships have been awarded to teachers at the high school level.

The fellowship program will name 100 Rockefeller Fellows in 1987 competitively chosen for outstanding teaching and a commitment to foreign language education.

Fellows will each receive the $4,500 stipend for summer study to enhance their knowledge of the country and culture they teach.

The program will be administered locally by Helen Currie who will direct the local effort by disseminating applications to interested teachers and by coordinating a local review of applications.

A local panel will nominate finalists from the region to be considered by a national review board that will meet at the University of Pennsylvania to select the 100 Fellows from the nomination pool.

The fellowships coincide with a nationwide effort to recognize and improve teaching in foreign languages and literatures.

"We hope these awards will help encourage bright and intellectually determined people to persist in language teaching," said Richard W. Lyman, president of the Rockefeller Foundation.

Area high school teachers interested in applying for the Rockefeller Fellowships can receive further information and an official application from Helen Currie, 1020 West Beach Blvd., Pass Christian, MS 38671. The deadline for submitting completed applications is Oct. 31.

MSU computer science program gains national accreditation

The undergraduate computer science program at Mississippi State University is among the first 22 to recently gain approval by a newly established national accreditation commission.

LTSTAHELE

Leslie Ann Staehle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Staehle of Bay St. Louis, will be sworn into the Mississippi Bar Association Oct. 1 in Jackson. Ms. Staehle, who graduated from the University of Mississippi Law School last May is a first lieutenant in the United States Army and will attend Judge Advocate General's School in Charlottesville, Va. beginning Oct. 5 for military law training. Following completion of the course, Ms. Staehle will be stationed at Fort Riley, Kan.

The program is one of only three in the Southeast to meet the Computing Sciences Accreditation Board's policy of minimum standards. Others in the region are the Georgia Institute of Technology and Clemson University.

The board grants accreditation to baccalaureate programs that meet or exceed minimum established criteria for curriculum, laboratory and computing resources, faculty, students, and institutional support.

It makes no attempt to rank accredited programs or to dictate course structures.

Department Head Bradley Carter said in the curriculum area, the board required a broad general education, with at least one-fourth of the four-year program allocated to humanities, social sciences, and other subjects such as communication and the arts.

"The criteria also include a strong background in mathematics and science, as well as intensive classwork, laboratory assignments, and projects covering the major topics of computer science both at the basic and advanced levels," he added.

Undergraduate enrollment in the department is approximately 800.

Carter said since the undergraduate program was established in 1964, "our faculty have strived to keep the computer science curriculum consistent with national standards." The department has 15 full-time faculty.

"We're delighted that our efforts have been formally recognized by a professional organization," he said.

MSU President Donald W. Zacharias said the accreditation "is a compliment to the thorough planning of Dr. Carter and Dean Ed McGone (of the College of Arts and Sciences)."

"The faculty of the department have achieved a new plateau of performance that shows how strong our academic programs can be and what an excellent career plan is available for our students," Zacharias said.

The board's Computer Science Accreditation Commission, which has authority and responsibility for program evaluation and final accreditation actions, was established in June. The board itself was created in 1984 by the Association for Computing Machinery and the Computer Society of the Institute of Electric and Electronic Engineers—the two largest membership organizations specializing in computing and computing-related areas.

According to information provided by the accreditation board, 31 programs were selected for review in the commission's first review cycle. More than 200 had requested to be reviewed.

Among other programs included with MSU, Georgia Tech and Clemson in the first accredited group were the United States Air Force Academy, Brandeis University, University of California—San Diego, Drexel University, Iowa State University and University of Utah.

Children's show slated at St. Clare

PERKINSTON—The schedule for the touring children's show "Bar-nyard Blues" has been announced by Kathryn Lewis, Gulf Coast Junior College fine arts chairperson. Lewis said the Perkinston Campus drama group will be on the road for two months performing for elementary school students, including Saint Clare Elementary, Waveland, Thursday, Oct. 30, 8:45 a.m.

Schools and organizations interested in booking the show may contact Kathryn Lewis, Drama Department, Perkinston Campus, Perkinston, MS 39573, or call 928-5211, ext. 283.

UM names Haws department chairman

Dr. Robert J. Haws, a scholar of legal history, is the new chairman of the Department of History at The University of Mississippi.

Associate Professor Haws replaces Dr. Fred Laurenzo, also an associate professor, who stepped down to devote more time to teaching and research. His appointment was effective July 1.

The new chairman joined the Ole Miss faculty in 1969 as an assistant professor after earning three history degrees at the University of Nebraska, including a doctor of philosophy in 1973. He also studied law at Yale in 1978-79.

Haws was promoted to associate professor in 1976 and has been assistant director of The University Honors Program since 1984. He directed the American Studies Program from 1975-83.

Among Haws' numerous publications is the book "The Age of Segregation: Race Relations in the South, 1890-1978," which he edited. Other papers and lectures have dealt with law and the marketplace, taxation, race and property rights. His current projects include a biographical directory of American legal leaders and a history of the American legal profession.

Haws has served as newsletter editor for the American Society of Legal History since 1978 and on the bibliography committee of the American Studies Association since 1982.

BRETT FAVRE

Favre named Spirit nominee

Brett Favre, a senior at Hancock North Central High School, is a nominee for The Spirit of America Award.

Favre was nominated for this award due to his performance as an outstanding quarterback for the 1896 undefeated Hancock North Central Hawks.

The Spirit of America Award is presented annually to an "outstanding Mississippi high school Athlete, Citizen and Leader."

"It is an honor to have such a fine young man as Favre nominated for the award from the coast," said Richard Barrett, chairman of the Spirit of America board of trustees.

Finalists for the Spirit of America award will be selected from the nominees to be recognized by the Mississippi State Legislature and at Spirit of America Day ceremonies in March.

Favre is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Favre of the Fenton Community.

Chair of Accountancy established to honor UN Prof H.E. Peery

Friends and former students of University of Mississippi accountancy professor Harry Eugene Peery are establishing a Chair of Accountancy in his name.

Being sought is a $750,000 endowment to maintain an outstanding accountancy scholar on the Oxford campus. It honors Peery for the 35 years of classroom teaching and student counseling which have endeared him to numerous Ole Miss alumni.

A committee met in Jackson to plan the endowment drive.

Peery, who would be the first holder of the chair established in his honor, has taught 17 different accountancy subjects at Ole Miss. He has served 12 years in the Faculty Senate, 10 years as faculty adviser to Omicron Delta Kappa, 15 years as a national testing program participant for the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, and 31 years as adviser to Sigma Nu social fraternity.

In 1968, he became the third professor in Ole Miss history to receive the University's Outstanding Teacher of the Year Award. He was the first recipient of the School of Accountancy's Outstanding Teacher Award in 1982. Admirers have already established a $10,000 accountancy scholarship endowment in his honor.

The Peery Chair of Accountancy is designed to honor his achievements at Ole Miss and make his name a standard of perpetual excellence in the accountancy program. Organizers of the drive are encouraging friends of Peery to make their contributions to The University of Mississippi Foundation, Box 249, University, MS 38677, or to call (601) 232-5844 for more information.

Narcotics News

Donald Butler
Director
Bureau of Narcotics

Q: What is PCP? Why is it sometimes called "superpot"? (L.A. Florence, MS)

A: PCP is commonly called "angel dust." It was originally developed as an anesthetic for surgery and was sometimes used as a tranquilizer for animals. Doctors have abandoned the use as an anesthetic because of its dangerous hallucination effects. PCP is often smoked in marijuana cigarettes, therefore giving it the name of "superpot." Its effects can be devastating.

Due to the distortion of reality caused by PCP, the effect is often mistaken as a mental illness. PCP leads to violent and strange behavior - and it can kill or cause the user to kill.

Q: How can marijuana plants be recognized?

A: Marijuana, known to botanists as Cannabis sativa, is an annual plant now grown throughout temperate and tropical areas of the world.

In Mississippi and other parts of the southeast its cultivation is particularly successful; farmers, sportsmen and other persons who frequent rural areas encounter growing marijuana plants with ever-increasing frequency.

Marijuana plants are most readily identified by their leaves having a palmately structure.

Each leaf is composed of a number of leaflets with serrated or notched margins.

There are usually seven of these leaflets, but they may vary considerably and are usually of an odd number. A drawing of such a leaf heads this column.

The plant itself varies in appearance, in Mississippi it may grow to 15 feet or more in height and may produce more than a pound of cured leaves before frost ends its life.

Q: I am concerned about the possibility of my children experimenting with alcohol, especially my son who is in junior-high. Is there any information you can provide to help make this an open discussion in our family.

K.M., Coldwater, MS

A: The National Council on Alcoholism, Inc. offers the below listed tips in a pamphlet they publish entitled "When Your Teen-ager Starts Drinking."

1. Watch your drinking the way your children watch it. Be an example. It is not what you say that your children learn from, but your actions.

2. Tell teen-agers why people drink. Tell them the good and bad sides to liquor.

3. Point up the dangers of drinking in the here and now. For example, drinking and driving may deprive one of being able to use the car for a month. Point out that drinking effects judgment and coordination (skills that are needed for driving).

4. Show a film or hold group discussions on drinking problems. Community involvement programs in church or school is a good way of informing teen-agers.

5. Get closer to your kids. Spend more time with your kids. This can be done by planning various family outings.

6. Get expert help. If your child has a bad problem with alcohol and all your endeavors have failed, it is time to get professional help.

If further information is needed, write to The National Council on Alcoholism, Inc., 733 Third Avenue, New York, NY 10017.

If you would like to ask a question, address it to Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics, P.O. Box 6462, Jackson, MS 39212

Answer to Puzzle

How to influence an 18-year-old.

MUSIC. Discuss current trends with your son as his stereo blasts away at full power. Drop the following names: "The Boss," New Edition, Rush. The rest of the time just mumble.

SPORTS CAR. So what if he can't pronounce Porsche? Give in and buy him a sports car. That will get his attention.

SPORTS. Gain his undying love by repairing the garage basketball backboard and adding overhead lighting for night games.

NEW THREADS. You've heard of "Dress for Success?" Well, today it's "Dress to Excess." Close your eyes and buy him a new wardrobe.

POST OFFICE. The post office isn't really an influence, it's a destination—within a month of every male's 18th birthday. Here he must register with Selective Service. However, some young men put off registering, and a few decide not to register at all. That's why we're making this direct appeal to you. We need you to help influence your son to register—and to do so on time. You see, registration is the law. And, it's required for federal student loans, federal employment and job training benefits. Don't let a young man you know miss out on any federal or state benefits. Make sure he knows about registering with Selective Service. A complete registration list saves our country six vital weeks in mobilizing our manpower in a national emergency.

Selective Service Registration.
It's Quick. It's Easy. And it's the Law.

EVERYDAY MINIMUM PRICING

SAYS "NO"
TO HIGHER
FOOD BILLS.

NO SPECIALS,
NO DOUBLE COUPONS,
NO GIMMICKS.

Just absolutely lower pricing on every item, every day—to give you the minimum total food bill. Every week. To make this possible, Delchamps is taking an important step: We've eliminated weekly specials. This has been a very expensive way to attract more customers. And to make up for it, supermarkets have had to keep all their other prices high.

Instead, the New Delchamps is doing business in a whole new way. With Everyday Minimum Pricing. No games or gimmicks. Just the minimum possible prices to give you the minimum total food bill. It's a bold way to run a supermarket. And we're making it work. For all of us.
